From the Chairman

On behalf of all your Parish Council Team, may I take this opportunity to extend a very warm welcome to all Romanby residents & families attending and taking part in our two events planned to celebrate the Platinum Jubilee of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth the Second.

As we mark the extraordinary life and service of Her Majesty The Queen, we also want to take this unique opportunity to come together as a community properly for the first time in well over two years - as a result of the pandemic - it has been challenging and dark times for many, and so this opportunity to celebrate the very best of us is truly fitting.

The beacon ceremony on Thursday 2nd June will be a unique moment across the entire UK as some 2000 beacons will be lit at 9.45pm to mark this historic moment in our Nation's history. The family Picnic In The Park on the afternoon of Sunday 5th June (12-5.30pm), is a chance for our Parish families and friends of all ages to gather and enjoy a celebratory event, in keeping with the theme of the day – we are keeping our fingers crossed for good weather! We have live music and a host of fun activities planned for the afternoon (see elsewhere in this programme), as well as free refreshments – all you need to do is bring a picnic and yourselves and relax and enjoy what we hope will be a great afternoon – the event is provided for our community free of charge – we have successfully bid for help from the Community Lottery Fund and we are very grateful for their help and support. We are also very grateful to our programme sponsors, whose advertisements appear in this programme.

Finally, I would like to record my personal thanks to our Parish Council team, including all our volunteer councillors, who have overseen the planning for these events, and of course to Mandy, our fabulous and hard-working clerk; it is a team effort in every sense, and working hard to make Romanby a better place to live is why we do it. Enjoy the weekend!

Best wishes,
Stuart Bradnam

Romanby Memorial Garden – A Short History

The Romanby War Memorial was constructed with public money (£500 - £29, 680 in today's money) after the Parish set up a Memorial Committee, headed up by William Exton, the father of one of the men killed and commemorated (Lance Corporal George Exton). The formal unveiling and dedication was on Saturday March 19th 1927, and, as our photo shows, was well attended.

Saturday March 19th 1927

On the 10th February 1928, custody of the War Memorial ground was taken over by the Parish Council, from the Memorial Committee (which was wound up) and some 2 years later, on 27th March 1930, the land of the Memorial, plus a section to the rear (which now forms the whole garden) was donated to the Parish Council in perpetuity. For the next 84 years, the memorial garden and land were maintained as an open grass space with concrete paths – the garden had a metal railing fence until 1942, when it was processed for scrap for the war effort – the current low wall was put up in the 1960s.

The “Romanby Remembers” project was launched by the Parish Council in 2014, with the main focus of improving the public open space that is the Romanby Memorial Garden and developing resources and archive materials for all residents about the Memorial, and the men commemorated, including their lives and families. Residents were consulted and helped with the design of the gardens, including layout, new paths, access and planting, and the final design was publicly approved in 2015, when work began, with help from both the Heritage Lottery Fund, and the North East Horticultural Society.

Our Platinum Jubilee flagpole dedication this weekend is the next step on the Garden's journey, which we will continue to evolve and improve in the years ahead.

ROMANBY PARISH COUNCIL

Working Hard To Make Romanby Better Who We Are & What We Do

Romanby Parish Council, like all Parish and Town Councils in England, represents the first tier of local government - the one closest and most accessible to the electors. The Council is made up of 12 volunteer Councillors supported by a paid, part time clerk. The Parish Council is not a political body and Councillors do not represent any political party when working for the Parish Council. We serve some 6500 residents living in approximately 2750 residences, and we are passionate about understanding the aspirations of residents and the issues affecting them, promoting the appropriate and sustainable development of Romanby and facilities in the Parish, and ensuring that Romanby continues to be a safe and enjoyable place to live, work and play, now and in the future.
